Confidence Evidence Log

Level 2 · Keep Your Inventory Growing

Name _____ Date _____

Your brain is wired to remember what went wrong and quickly forget what went right. Over time, that leaves you with a distorted picture of yourself. This log is where you record the moments you acted despite doubt: the comment you made anyway, the price you held, the conversation you did not avoid.

Confidence is not built by thinking differently. It is built by collecting evidence.

PART 1 Your Evidence

Record moments from this level, however small they seem.

Entry 1

WHEN AND WHICH LEVEL

THE DOUBT I FELT

WHAT I DID ANYWAY

WHAT IT SHOWS ABOUT ME

Entry 2

WHEN AND WHICH LEVEL

THE DOUBT I FELT

WHAT I DID ANYWAY

WHAT IT SHOWS ABOUT ME

Entry 3

WHEN AND WHICH LEVEL

THE DOUBT I FELT

WHAT I DID ANYWAY

WHAT IT SHOWS ABOUT ME

Entry 4

WHEN AND WHICH LEVEL

THE DOUBT I FELT

WHAT I DID ANYWAY

WHAT IT SHOWS ABOUT ME

Entry 5

WHEN AND WHICH LEVEL

THE DOUBT I FELT

WHAT I DID ANYWAY

WHAT IT SHOWS ABOUT ME

PART 2 Reflect

Look back over your entries.

What patterns do you notice?

Which entry are you most proud of, and why?

Confidence is not built by thinking differently. It is built by collecting evidence.