Your Self-Doubt Baseline

Level 1 · Reset and Mental Calibration

Name _____ Date _____

Self-doubt rarely announces itself. It shows up as the comment you did not make, the price you lowered before anyone asked, and the decision you checked with three people first. This baseline gives you an honest picture of where self-doubt is shaping your choices today. It takes about ten minutes. There are no right answers and nobody else will see your scores.

You cannot see how far you have travelled unless you mark where you started.

PART 1 Where You Are Starting

Choose whether this is your starting score in Level 1 or your closing score in Level 8.

This is my...

☐ Level 1 starting score ☐ Level 8 closing score

Your Level 1 total

If you are scoring again in Level 8, enter the total from your Level 1 PDF so you can see the change.

PART 2 The Ten Statements

Rate each statement from 1 to 10. 1 means this is rarely true for you. 10 means it is almost always true.

1 = rarely true 10 = almost always true. Circle one number for each statement.

1. I speak up in meetings when I have something to add.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
2. I make decisions without needing reassurance from others first.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
3. I can receive praise without dismissing or deflecting it.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
4. I can hear criticism without replaying it for days.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
5. I say no when something does not fit my priorities.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
6. I ask for what I need, including time, support, and money.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
7. I trust my own judgement when I am under pressure.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
8. I believe my achievements reflect my ability, not luck.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

9. I can talk about my value, including fees or salary, without discomfort. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

10. I recover quickly after a setback or a mistake. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

My total (add your ten scores) _____ / 100

PART 3 What Your Score Is Telling You

Look at your total and your three lowest areas. Then answer the questions below.

Which score surprised you most?
Higher or lower than you expected. What do you make of it?

Where is self-doubt costing you most right now?
In your work, your income, your relationships, or your energy.

If your lowest score rose by two points, what would change?
Be specific. What would you do, say, or stop doing?

You cannot see how far you have travelled unless you mark where you started.